"I have a huge ego," he said. "In fact it's still an issue I deal with. You probably noticed it already."

"No, not at all," I responded.

I lied.

Kevin Loomis is the kind of guy who arrives before he arrives. At just 5'6" he may be one of the shorter guys in any room, yet he has a huge presence. There was a quiet power about him. He shook my hand firmly and looked me square in the eye. "I'm Kevin Loomis," he said. That's all it took. I was officially intimidated. As we sat down for me to hear his story about life on Wall Street, he soon used the words that quickly piqued my interest.

"I had a hunger to get rich," he told me right off the bat. "I needed to be the one everyone went to. I wasn't going to be denied. That's why I became a stockbroker. I was going to make it big."

He used the word, hunger, I thought to myself. He's already jumped to the spiritual heart of the matter. This could be quite a story.

I had no idea.

We go together like Peanut Butter & Jelly.

Relationships are an enigma. Take two people from different backgrounds, families, and history and make something delicious happen. Kind of like peanut butter and jelly. At this year's relationship conference, we'll see what God says about relationships in both marriage and singleness. He has a plan and it's a good one.
