REDUCING DEBT = FUN?

Rock couple finds RFL classes life changing

By the time my husband, Tyson, and I had shown up at the door of the RFL Ministry (Rock Financial Life), we were looking at a huge mountain in consumer debt, not including our mortgage. We had student loan debt, timeshare debt, motorcycle and car debt. We had been tithing for many years, but we had bought into the “we can afford it” lifestyle; the one the world tells you it is your right as a hard-working, gainfully employed person.

On paper we looked good with a near perfect credit score, and believed that it was the key to that lifestyle. And so, with a high credit score in hand, we financed our way through life, believing we could afford the monthly payments for all the things we felt would bring us happiness.

One morning at church, Pastor Miles had asked this question of the congregation: Where do you want to be in 5 years, and then in 10 years? When we were truthful about the answer, we knew we couldn’t continue to live our lifestyle of debt. Six months later, I was laid off unexpectedly, and with no savings, we couldn’t pay our bills for the first time ☒
