

BY TRINA HARRIS WITH DAVE FRANCO

HEALING & PURPOSE

A student at Rock School of Ministry gets more than she bargained for.

Anyone who has had to experience a marriage gone terribly wrong knows just how debilitating it can be.

That is where my husband and I found ourselves, so deep in trouble that we didn't know up from down anymore, or which way led to the surface of our tragic relationship. All we knew was how in pain we were. We couldn't be in the same space, we couldn't talk to each other, we couldn't even fathom an escape route apart from divorce. In response, we both pursued our own means and methods of dealing with the pain—which drove us further apart—from each other and God. It left us flailing in the wind.

As a last resort, we went to church together to see if somehow returning to God might offer a few answers to our problem. You see, I had given my life to Jesus seven years before, but had never truly taken Him on as Lord of my life. I was lord of my life...
